

THE SOUTH FRANCILIEN HOSPITAL CENTER (91)

The South Francilien Hospital Center (SFHC) serves 3 counties south of Paris (the whole Essonne county, South of the Seine-et-Marne county and the South-East of the Val-de-Marne county). It covers the healthcare of nearly 600 000 people living in the great crown.

In 2016, the South Francilien Hospital Center located in the Corbeil-Essonnes county modernized its pediatric emergency unit, flashback on this huge project. Each year 26 000 people visit the emergency ward. The goal of this renovation/extension operation was to improve the comfort for the children and their families.
